AUGMENTED REALITY & HEALTH

SNACKPALS

Snackpals is an augmented reality application for the grocery store that helps kids choose healthier food options. Kids gain characters by using computer vision to scan their groceries, and parents certify the foods, earning a 529 plan “match” from their health insurer.

DYNO HEALTH

DynoHealth is a distributed health insurer for Uber drivers and other gig economy workers.

DynoHealth uses blockchains to enable drivers to form micro-collectives to negotiate for cheaper healthcare costs from urgent care clinics, even if they don't have traditional insurance.
